PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a multilingual Youth Advocate with regional expertise in SRHR, SGBV prevention, and cross-cultural leadership. I combine a strong academic foundation in Spanish language and Hispanic socio-political affairs with hands-on experience in academic research, data analysis, programme design and international youth governance. I also have a proven capability in coordinating community-driven initiatives and advocacy campaigns. I am committed to leveraging evidence-based research and strategic advocacy to advance sustainable development outcomes, inform policy design, and prepare for future impact in international development and diplomatic affairs. I hail from Mepe in the North Tongu District of Ghana.
